

SPEAKER 1: ECP is a very safe treatment. Most patients don't have any severe adverse effects. The most serious effects which can occur include infection of the blood or skin, low blood pressure, fainting or dizziness, but most patients don't get these symptoms. In fact, they're in less than 1% of patients. Patients may complain of a slight headache, or some drowsiness and tiredness, but again, these are rare side effects.